1. At the Executive Committee Meeting this morning:

a. I called General Carter's attention to Mr. Kirkpatrick's cable from Saigon in which he recommended that consideration be given to the orderly evacuation of dependents. Since this action would require Governmental coordination, General Carter undertook to explore the situation and to let me know if any action should be required.

c. General Carter announced that the Director had received a letter from General Taylor, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in which he requested Agency participation in war games in March which would assume a revolt in East Germany.

2. Emmett Echols was in to discuss with me the general problem of promoting personnel in grade GS-15 to grade GS-16 prior to the passage of the new pay bill which would result in a considerable windfall to personnel so promoted. He had with him a very strong request from the Civil Service Commission that such promotions be deferred pending passage of the new pay bill. I agreed that we should comply with the request of the Civil Service motion from grade GS-15 to grade GS-16. In this case, even though it may mean a windfall to [redacted] which others will not get, I believe that the Agency should live up to its commitment. In a later meeting which John Clarke and Emmett had with General Carter, General Carter confirmed that we should comply with the Civil Service Commission's request. He also preferred a compromise in the [redacted] case, the details of which Emmett has discussed with [redacted] and have been accepted by the latter.

5. I talked to [REDACTED] about the Office of Computer Services taking [REDACTED] on their table of organization. I told Jack that the decision to do this had been made long before the Office of Computer Services was transferred to the DD/S&T and that I assumed we had been negligent in not completing the paper work. In any case, I said that I would consider this to be a breach of faith on the part of the Office of Computer Services if at this point in time they declined to accept this obligation.
